4. Program description

Betting on internationalization, mobility, and responding to the challenges of the global world, the Erasmus Mundus Master's program TPTI: Techniques, Patrimoine et Territoires de l'Industrie (Techniques, Heritage, and Territories of Industry) is an international master's degree that brings together nine universities: Paris-1 Panthéon Sorbonne, University of Évora, University of Padua, Polytechnic University of Prague, University of Oviedo, University of Sfax, Cheikh Anta Diop University of Dakar, University of Kagoshima, and the University of Córdoba.

This program aims to deepen knowledge about Cultural Heritage, particularly Technical, Industrial, and Landscape Heritage, through historical and territorial analysis, research and management, action research, and heritage enhancement. Taught by professors from different countries with expertise in the scientific fields covered by this program, it offers students diverse perspectives on Cultural Heritage in highly varied geographical and cultural contexts. The goal is to train specialists capable of safeguarding and managing Cultural Heritage while considering it as a means to promote sustainable development and the cultural enrichment of different regions and countries.

Students are prepared for professional careers through internships, language learning, and mobility across various European and non-European countries. At the University of Évora, this master's program is presented as a specialization area within the Master's in Management and Enhancement of Historical and Cultural Heritage.

9. General conditions of access and admission

i Legal conditions for access to the cycle of studies leading to the master degree

Those who meet the following conditions may apply to the cycle of studies that leads to the master degree:

- Holders of the bachelor degree or legal equivalent;
- Holders of a foreign academic degree dully recognised as satisfying the objectives identical to the bachelor degree by the relevant scientific body of the higher education institution they wish to be admitted to;
- Holders of an academic, scientific or professional curriculum vitae that is recognized as attesting to the capacity to carry out this cycle of studies by the relevant scientific body of the higher education institution they wish to be admitted to.

ii Conditions of access to the cycle of studies at the Universidade de Évora

On the application date, the undergraduate students must satisfy conditions that guarantee the conclusion of their undergraduate degree until the 30th of October of the admission year. The admission and enrollment of these students is conditioned on the conclusion of the degree until this date, and the enrollment is canceled if the student does not complete the degree within that period

During the first application phase, students who have a maximum of 6 curricular units or 36 ECTS missing for conclusion of their degree can apply for the 2nd cycle; in the 2nd application phase students can apply if they have at most 3 curricular units missing and in the 3rd application phase if they have at most one curricular unit missing

The previous condition does not apply to students with a curriculum that reveals professional or scientific experience, which can be recognized by the competent scientific body, as attesting the students ability to carry out the masters degree/post-graduation, provided that the student required that recognition in the application process
